Sculptor Buys Mountain for Huge Carving

Zinkwazick, 39, Who Ate Lincoln, Buys Redwood Base

On October 29th, a significant event occurred when a prominent sculptor, known for his impressive works, purchased a large redwood mountain for the purpose of creating a monumental carving. The sculpture, titled "The Spirit of the Ages," was designed to commemorate a historic event. The sale price was reported to be $5,000,000, a substantial sum that reflects the artist's vision and the potential impact of the artwork.

Rain Suspends "Assailant" Attack on U.S. Base

Air and Sea "Assailant" Honesty "Strife" Forces

Hamlinockets, New York, Nov. 4—A plane which was scheduled to attack a U.S. military base in Hamlinockets was delayed due to heavy rain. The "Assailant" planes, in a marked departure from their earlier tactics, were expected to launch a series of coordinated attacks on various targets. However, the weather conditions made it impossible to proceed with the operations.

2 Ex-Officers Testify on Navy Oil Deal in '43

Sy Refusal of Armes to Compromise Noted in Sale at $1.05 a Barrel

By Raymond L. Blair Washington, D.C., Nov. 4—Two former Navy officers testified today that the Navy's "policy" regarding the sale of Armes oil was not followed in a transaction that resulted in the purchase of the oil by the Navy. The former officers, known for their expertise in military oil operations, provided detailed evidence of the mishandling that occurred during the transfer of the oil. Their testimony is expected to have a significant impact on the ongoing investigation into the matter.
