U.S. TO JOIN WITH BRITAIN IN SOLVING JEWISH ISSUE

Bevin’s warning against force in Palestine

The United States Government has accepted an invitation to co-operate with the British Government in setting up a joint Anglo-American inquiry to examine the question of European Jewry, and to make a further review of the Palestine problem in the light of the examination.

After announcing this in the Commons yesterday, Mr. Bevin. Foreign Secretary, told Mr. Pethick-Lawrence that it was not his intention to co-operate with the British Government in setting up a joint Anglo-American inquiry to examine the question of European Jewry, and to make a further review of the Palestine problem in the light of the examination.

A strenuous and complete reply was given by Mr. Bevin in a sympathetic hearing, greeting with cheers the progress of American co-operation. Mr. Morrison, as Leader of the House, promised an early debate.

Throughout the House, there was general agreement that the co-operation of the United States must be welcomed as a very important step, but there was a feeling that the Hebrews of the Middle East should be allowed to be free and to choose their own representatives to govern.

Freedom for all Moslem peoples

Mr. Bevin was supported by great enthusiasm in the House of Commons for the idea of the Jewish minority being allowed to choose their own representatives.

The Prime Minister said: "We are all agreed that the Hebrews of the Middle East should have the right to choose their own representatives to govern. We are all agreed that the co-operation of the United States must be welcomed as a very important step. We are all agreed that the Hebrews of the Middle East should be allowed to be free and to choose their own representatives to govern."
