

U.N. Soviet Bloc Lays Tyranny To U.S. in Korea

Manuilsky Leads 4-Hour Attack; Calls Conditions Worse Than Under Japan

By Gaston Coblentz
LAKE SUCCESS, L. I., Nov. 4.—The entire Russian bloc lined up at the United Nations today to charge the United States with occupying Korea more tyrannically than did Japan.

In a marathon of oratory, Russian bloc speakers contradicted John Foster Dulles, of the United States, who protested that American intentions in Korea are of the best.

For more than four hours, the Russian group in the U. N.'s political and security committee contrasted "horrible" conditions in American-held southern Korea with those in the northern Soviet-held Korean zone.

Dmitri Z. Manuilsky, Ukrainian Foreign Minister, started the Soviet ball rolling with charges that the United States has arrested 20,000 persons in Korea, "while no more than 6,000 political prisoners were taken by the Japanese during their occupation of all of Korea."

Replies to Dulles
Late in the afternoon, long after Mr. Dulles had admitted that American military government in Korea is "far from perfect," Polish and Byelorussian speakers were still echoing Mr. Manuilsky's unqualified denunciations.

For an hour and fifteen minutes Mr. Manuilsky waved his finger under Mr. Dulles's nose and warned him that "the Korean people are waiting impatiently until the rotten American order in southern Korea is thrown out."

Gromyko Presses Attack
Andrei A. Gromyko, of Russia, who appears to have been following Mr. Manuilsky's lead since the Korea debate began at the U. N. last Wednesday, then intensified the anti-American barrage.

"Terror is running rampant in southern Korea," he declared. "It can be compared only to the situation in Greece."
The jails and camps of southern Korea, Mr. Gromyko said, contain "tens of thousands" of political prisoners. These prisoners are subject to beatings and torture. The United States has used "tanks and planes" to bar worker demonstrations. The situation, Mr. Gromyko said, "is getting worse and worse day by day."

Mr. Dulles, who has avoided polemics since the United States began arguing its plan for starting Korea on the road to independence through the U. N., took about ten minutes to answer Mr. Gromyko and Mr. Manuilsky, as well as more or less identical charges by Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. Most of the committee looked interested for the first time today.

"I say in the most solemn way," stated Mr. Dulles, "that it is the absolute and firm intention of the United States to withdraw its troops wholly and completely from Korea at the earliest practical date and that we have no intention of seeking bases or any military help whatsoever in Korea."

"We are willing to leave our troops there for a slightly longer period," he continued, "because we believe that that is necessary to permit an orderly transition from the Japanese rule to an independent Korea. If we should take our troops out at once, the result would be chaos and civil war in Korea."

Norway's Foreign Minister Returns for U. N. Sessions

We do not think that the Korean people deserve that fate."
A Russian demand that all American and Soviet troops be withdrawn from Korea by early 1948 is scheduled for a vote in the committee tomorrow. The United States has proposed that occupation troops be withdrawn not less than ninety days after an independent all-Korea government has been set up by U. N.-run elections.

Boy, 6, Beaten, Teacher Held
NEWPORT, Pa., Nov. 4 (AP)—A fifty-two-year-old teacher, whose one-room schoolhouse was picketed by a group of sign-carrying parents, has been released in $750 bond on charges of assault and battery on a six-year-old boy pupil. Walter Byers was released in bond for arraignment in criminal court Nov. 17 after pleading not guilty yesterday before Justice of the Peace Frank Milligan. The charges were pressed by John Jenkins, who said his son, David, was brought home in a semi-conscious condition with two lumps on his head.

Mr. Milligan said four other pupils told him Byers had whipped the child because he failed to recite his numbers lesson correctly and laughed when ordered to stand facing the wall.

Russia's Palestine Plan Wins Praise

Jewish Agency Aid Lends Security Council Praise

Gedaliah Bublik, member of the political advisory committee of the Jewish Agency, told 500 delegates to the American Miz-rachi conference at the Hotel Pennsylvania yesterday that "the Russian formula for implementing the partition proposal is a far more practical one in a certain sense than is that of the United States." He explained:

"The Russian delegate's latest proposal, which calls for the establishment of a special commission by the Security Council, appears to be better and more realistic in the U. N. commission would have strong governing powers during the transition period, whereas the United States proposal would appoint a commission with only advisory influences."

"To implement the creation of Arab and Jewish states," Mr. Bublik said, "it is absolutely imperative that the United Nations fashion a supervisory commission with full powers to maintain peace in the Holy Land until the Jewish state is born."

Mr. Bublik called upon the Jewish people of the world to support the creation of a Jewish state, reminding them that "since the issuance of the Balfour Declaration in 1917, we, ourselves, have forfeited a great part of the Holy Land because of negligence and inertia."
