

British Blame Illegal Exodus on U. S. Financial Aid to Jews Charged

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP)—A colonial office spokesman charged today that "American financial sources" were responsible for "encouraging and directing" illegal immigration of Jews to Palestine.

Asked to elaborate on the government's statement yesterday that "very large financial contributions" supported the mass exodus of European Jews to Palestine, the spokesman declined to specify individuals or organizations.

He recalled, however, "the many advertisements in United States newspapers appealing for money to aid European Jews to get to Palestine by illegal means."

He cited one advertisement, published last April, which he said carried the phrase: "American dollars pitted against British arms."

A leading London spokesman for the New Zionist Organization said the British policy in Palestine was "a blackmail on the United States" to force U. S. participation in a federalization plan.

He urged the United States to aid refugee Jews and to advise American occupation forces in Europe to give the refugees every assistance.

The British declared they would confiscate all illegal immigrant ships caught in Palestine waters, but would not seize the vessels on the high seas.

The Colonial Office and the Admiralty, outlining plans for dealing with little immigrant ships in the Mediterranean, said the navy would spot and shadow the vessels into territorial waters, "where it is legal for British forces to board and search any craft."

In Jerusalem a spokesman for the Jewish Agency told a news conference that "the statement by which the British government attempts to justify deportation of recent immigrants only adds fuel to the flames."

"If the action itself arouses anger throughout the Jewish community, the statement whips it into fury. Peace in Palestine can never be achieved by such tactics."

ARRIVAL OF REINFORCEMENTS Dispatches from Palestine said without confirmation that British reinforcements had arrived in that troubled country.

The Jerusalem Community Council appealed to all Jewish workers, employers and shopkeepers to close their factories, shops and cafes at 5 p. m. today in protest against the British action on immigration.

In London, Abraham Abrahams, editor of the Jewish Standard and a member of the New Zionist Executive, declared in a formal statement:

"The British government last week conceded the demand of the Palestine Arab leaders who, under the advice of the former Mufti of Jerusalem, demanded immediate stoppage of Jewish immigration and deportation of Jews who were already in Haifa harbor, as a condition for attending a round table conference which the government is trying to convene."

"We call upon the United States to extend to our refugees their help and assistance and to advise their occupation forces in Europe to give them every comfort," he said, and urge the governments of France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Romania, Czechoslovakia and Greece "to open their boundaries in order to allow escaping European Jewry transit through their territories."

More About British Army Killing Jews

Continued from Page 1 aboard the troops. Health examinations were given to discover any passengers who might be too sick to make the trip.

An official statement said the Jewish Agency had been informed of the plans, and had been invited to supply medical personnel for the trip if it desired.

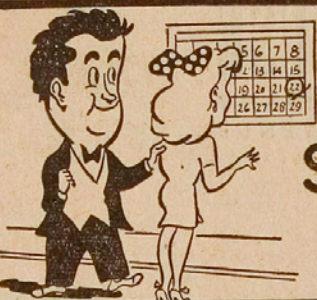

In Cyprus, a communique told the public the Jews would be kept in camps there temporarily "until more permanent homes can be found for them elsewhere," and that none would be allowed to become residents of Cyprus.

(Three ships arrived during last night outside Famagusta harbor and a reliable source said at least one carried Jews.)

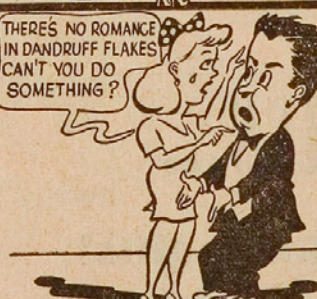

NAACP Reports Negroes Missing

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—A drive "to terrorize and, if necessary, to exterminate Negro veterans" is under way in some sections of the South, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored Peoples, charges.

Several veterans, he asserted, have mysteriously disappeared. Race rioting at Athens, Ga., which drove all Negroes off the streets last Saturday indicates increasing activity by the Ku Klux Klan and similar groups, he said.

'Twas a wise prophet who said, "Romance and dandruff flakes just don't mix." He also said that dandruff scales are unsightly, may cause scalp itch, and they handicap you not only in romance, but in business and social contacts as well. And when people asked this prophet "what to do," he told them that the 24-year proved Thomas treatment would quickly remove their dandruff flakes, relieve dandruff itch, and leave the scalp with a new, vital, healthy feeling. Allies Oppose U. S. Plan for Jap Council

TOKYO, Aug. 13 (UPI)—An American proposal to invite all 11 Allied powers to participate informally in Allied four-power Council discussions today brought vigorous opposition from the United Kingdom and Soviet delegates.

In a special Council meeting called to discuss procedural matters, George Atcheson Jr., American representative, explained that General MacArthur "desires and seeks constructive advice from any and every source to assist him in discharging the tremendous responsibility that sits upon his shoulders."

Opposed were W. MacMahon Ball, United Kingdom delegate, and Lieutenant General Kuzma Derevyanko of the Soviet Union.

The Chinese delegate, Lieutenant General Chu Shi-ming, reserved comment until after consulting with Nanking.

In a general discussion of what subjects fell within the Council's purview, Ball pointed out that the Council was consulted on the question of extending Japanese fishing grounds but was not consulted on a directive granting the Japanese a right to send whaling expeditions to the Antarctic.

Atcheson pointed out that the matter was extremely urgent but Ball reminded him that the whaling expeditions would not be sent out until November.

The American delegate then explained that Japanese-manned ships had to be refitted for whaling and that the Japanese were hesitant to do the work until permission for the trip had been granted.

"You are well aware that a Council meeting could have been called within 24 hours if needed," Ball reported.

The proposal to invite seven additional nations was put on the agenda for the next regular session August 21.

Is New York on the skids?

Today is Post Day

► New York ain't what it used to be, says Stanley Walker, a famous resident of the Big Town, who is now "by way of being fed up." It is shoddy and grasping, he says—"a strangling bedlam"—and that's why he is clearing out. In his provocative article he piles up a good deal of evidence which, he thinks, proves that America's No. 1 city is not only declining—it's doomed. He also gives us a nostalgic picture of the mellower and more congenial New York of the '20's.

What happens to a watch when a man swallows it? Or what happens to an ant when a watch swallows it? Amusing anecdotes about watches are coupled with a comprehensive picture of the watch industry as seen in the ELGIN and HAMILTON watch factories.
